The 2024 Namibian bass fishing season is officially set off on Saturday, 20 January 2024 at Lake Oanob Resort. This thrilling event marked the first of eight tournaments scheduled for the year as part of the King Price Insurance Team Tournament trial.

Twelve teams, including a total of 8 junior bass fishermen, attempted to fish the waters of Lake Oanob, each fishing for a shot at securing their spot in the MLF Toyota Series Championship in 2025. The tournament, generously sponsored by WK Insurance and King Price Insurance, offered an opportunity for these anglers to test their skills and competitive spirit in a high-stakes showdown.

As the day unfolded, it was clear that the competition was fierce, with every team showcasing their determination and endurance. However when the final bell rang, it was Team Ruffnek Bass Warehouse which emerged victoriously, proving their expertise on the water. Not only did Team Ruffnek Bass Warehouse claim the title, but they also displayed exceptional teamwork and sportsmanship throughout the event. Their victory was well-deserved and serves as a testament to their dedication to bass fishing in Namibia.

Furthermore, the WK Bass Showdown had another reason to celebrate when Thinus Williams managed to reel in the biggest bass of the day weighing in at 1.930kg.

As the 2024 King Price Insurance Team Tournament trial kicks off, anglers and fishing enthusiasts can look forward to the next event to be hosted at Von Bach Dam on 17 February 2024. The WK Bass Showdown set the bar high, and the anticipation for the subsequent events is beyond question.

Congratulations to Team Ruffnek Bass Warehouse and Thinus Williams for their outstanding performances and honourable mention needs to go to the juniors as Dex Geiger landed 5 keeper bass and Archer Kotze caught a big bass weighing 1.450kg!
